St. Andrews Center expands services

St. Andrews Center seeks to expand services by offering office and meeting space to non-profit organizations involved in community building programs. The Center will consider potential partners whose mission is aligned with the vision of a collaborative community where spirits are enriched, futures enhanced and lives changed.

St Andrews Center has served as a community and resource center in the Highland Park neighborhood since 2004. The mission of the Center promotes Spiritual, Educational, Economic and Social growth for individuals and the community. This mission is fulfilled through programming in the areas of Arts & Education as well as Faith & Food Initiatives.

The building partner program allows the Center to offer a diverse range of resources through collaboration with other non-profit organizations which operate in the building providing independent yet complementary services and programs. Partner organizations benefit from the networking opportunities, mutual support services and location in the very heart of a growing multi-ethnic urban neighborhood. Existing partners include Chattanooga State Technical Community College, La Plaza Comunitaria, Ensemble Theater of Chattanooga, Children's Nutrition Program of Haiti, Life Spring Community Health, Main Street Bike Co-op, Church Koinonia Federal Credit Union, and The Chalmers Center.

Organizations interested in being part of the vibrant synergy that is St. Andrews Center may contact Michelle Hayes, Interim Executive Director of the Center at 423/629-9872;
